As on March 2026

Dear Readers,

Greetings from Umang!

As we approach the final quarter of the academic year, teachers across all branches are actively engaged in conducting examinations and evaluating each child's progress and performance. Alongside academics, we are also preparing to celebrate and organize various events such as Holi, Gudi Padwa, World Autism Awareness Day, and several other activities for both students and parents.

In addition, all teachers will be coming together to discuss and plan upcoming school events and initiatives. As we move toward the closure of the current academic year, we are also focusing on advance planning and preparations for the upcoming year to ensure a smooth and productive start.

Holi celebration

Holi, the festival of colours, is celebrated with great enthusiasm and joy across different states of India. People from all religions come together to enjoy this vibrant festival, spreading happiness, love, and togetherness. The celebrations begin after the traditional Holika Dahan, symbolizing the victory of good over evil. At Umang School branches, Holi was celebrated with great excitement by both teachers and students. They did Holika Dahan with teachers and gathered to apply colors to one another and enjoy the festive spirit. Students especially love celebrating Holi with their friends and teachers, making the occasion memorable and full of fun. Adding below some colourful glimpses from our Holi celebrations.

Today, on the occasion of World Autism Awareness Day 2026, our students at Umang Special School showcased their talents with immense joy, confidence, and enthusiasm. Our amazing stars filled the day with energy, happiness, and memorable performances that truly reflected their unique abilities and spirit. From energetic dance performances to exciting fun games that encouraged focus and coordination, every moment reminded us that autism is not a limitation, but a different and beautiful way of experiencing the world. Through interactive activities such as hand-printing and sensory-friendly games, we created an environment that promotes support, learning, inclusion, and growth for every child. At Umang Special School, we believe that understanding and acceptance are the first steps toward true inclusion. Let us continue to celebrate the unique perspectives and talents that make our community stronger and more beautiful.

Visit to Umang Bhyandar branch by Arkade Group

Today, the word “inclusion” is often discussed by governments and educational institutions, yet it is rarely experienced in its true spirit. It was truly heartening and inspiring to witness the staff of Arkade embodying inclusion so naturally and sincerely. Their warmth, respect, and genuine connection with our students reflected what true inclusivity should look like in practice. On 9th April, the team from Arkade Group visited Umang Bhyandar branch and spent a memorable time with our students. They engaged the students in fun drawing and colouring activities, creating a joyful and interactive atmosphere. Our students also performed a dance for the Arkade team, which was thoroughly appreciated by everyone present. The team further delighted the students and teachers by distributing thoughtful gifts, followed by a team lunch together. Our sincere compliments and gratitude to the Arkade team and thank you for setting such a meaningful standard for others to follow.

Annual Parents Teacher Meeting

Parent-Teacher Meetings are an essential platform for meaningful interaction between parents and class teachers, helping to strengthen communication between home and school. During these meetings, detailed discussions are held regarding each student's performance in individual subjects, classroom discipline, attendance percentage, and overall progress as per the Disha curriculum. These sessions provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to listen, share insights, and work together for the overall development of the child. Teachers also discuss the present achievements and future goals planned for each student, while parents share their views and consent regarding the same. Sharing below some glimpses of the Parent-Teacher Meeting held at Umang Special School.
